The following letter speaks for itself:—

Ballarat Horticultural Society.

Ballarat, 8th April, 1919.

Messrs. R. U. Nicholls & Co., Nurserymen.

Dear Sirs,—

At our meeting last night at the City Hall a minute of appreciation was placed on our books expressing our congratulations to your firm on the success which has attended your hybridising efforts with Gladioli. We hold it to be a very great success worth of being chronicled that your firm was able to win the Blue Ribbon of the Show in the Gladioli section at our Autumn Shows of 1918 and 1919 with seedlings raised by your firm, also to achieve the unique success of winning the Champion bloom at both these Shows with seedlings of your own raising. We congratulate you and your very accomplished foreman, Mr. J. Nidschelm.

Yours faithfully,

FRUIT TREES.

VINES, NUTS, HERBS, ROOTS, Etc.

We offer a most extensive and choice collection of Fruit Trees, Vines, &c., all of which are perfectly clean, healthy, and free from all insect pests and diseases. The fact that our Nurseries, being in an exposed position, and the soil of a loamy nature, renders them eminently suitable for growing young stock of all kinds, as they are perfectly hardy, of sturdy growth, and remarkably well fibrous-rooted. We have received numbers of letters from our clients stating that our trees invariably do better when transplanted than those grown in a warmer climate and richer soil. Plant from June to August.
